TIME TO TIME THE TIME

McFadden's Clock Was Aged
and Slow on the Move.

BUT IT WON NELSON'S CASE

Jury Returns a Verdict of Not Guilty in the "Open-After-Hours" Case Brought by Officer Earl—The Margin Was Too Small, and Too Many Time Pieces Told the Time at the Time the Time Was Doubtful.

When the jury was locked in the court room to decide last evening whether or not John McFadden's saloon had been open after hours as charged, it was predicted by several that the verdict would be for the acquittal of Thomas Nelson, the defendant. When the charge was filed, some two weeks ago, Mayor Gilbert made the same prediction. The jury announced about 5 o'clock that they were ready to render a verdict and it was "not guilty."

The jurors were Joseph Beardmore, John Grant, John Davidson, J. L. Deldrick, Wyllie King, James Wilson, Thomas Anderson, Jethro Manley, Jr., A. W. King, William Barker, T. B. McKinnon, Henry Reark. Trustee Beardmore was chosen chairman, being the oldest man of the twelve, while several others were the youngest men seen on a local jury in many months. Four ballots were taken before a verdict was reached. The first stood nine for acquittal and three for conviction and the minority soon gave in. As one of the jurors explained it, the verdict was principally because of the testimony of Officer Earl who prosecuted the case. He testified that it was 11:05 o'clock when he left the fire station and walked over to McFadden's saloon; also that during the wrangle with McFadden about the time McFadden persisted that it was only four minutes after the hour for closing while he (Earl) looked at his watch and said it was five. The verdict was not much of a surprise, although the court had given no opinion in charging the jury but simply told them to weigh the testimony carefully.

After the News Review account closed yesterday, Engineer Joshua Curfman, W. J. McKinney and J. T. Roberts testified as to the time. John McFadden was the first witness for the defense and testified that he was closing up as Earl came in. His clock was just striking 11 at the time.

James Mullen said he was grabbed by Officer Earl as he was going out of McFadden's saloon and was taken back to the bar room. It was then just 11 by McFadden's clock.

Peter Devine said he was leaving as Earl brought Mullen and Nelson back. He heard the clock strike 11 then. Earl and McFadden argued about the time. Witness was positive that he heard Earl say in the mayor's office the same night that he had heard McFadden's clock striking 11 as he entered. As Nelson started out he asked for a half pint but McFadden refused him, saying it was time to close up and too risky to sell. Witness thought McFadden's clock was a good time keeper.

John Robinson, the man who entertained the crowd injured on the East End trestle testified that he was near the saloon and heard the clock strike.

"You were not arrested nor in any way connected with this trouble?" asked Attorney Brookes.

"Not yet," replied Robinson and the audience laughed.

Mrs. Peter Devine testified that she went to city hall with her husband and heard Earl tell the mayor that it was between four and five minutes after 11 when he made the raid and afterwards told him that it was 11:10 when he left the fire station.

Frank H. Sebring testified he discharged Nelson some months ago for drunkenness but had reemployed him and he had been a good and quiet workman ever since.

Thomas Nelson then went on the stand in his own behalf, and said he had started from the bar room at one minute to 11 o'clock, after McFadden had refused to fill him a half pint. He saw somebody grab Mullen, but being unable to see clearly without glasses, did not recognize the officer and thought Mullen was about to be "punched." Then he and Mullen were pushed inside the bar room. Mullen said he had not left his home in California Hollow that night until after 10 o'clock and drank only two glasses of beer. He heard McFadden tell Earl when the latter said it was five minutes after 11 that the officer had been in there five minutes. Another smile was caused when in answer to a question of "How many children have you?" Nelson replied in a careless manner, as if it was too difficult a job to count them: "Oh, about a half dozen."

Solicitor Clark in opening said it was only a question of time and it was no excuse if McFadden's clock was wrong. The testimony for the defense was doctored, as several of the witnesses admitted that they had talked it over at McFadden's since.

Attorney Brookes in his argument doubted that the jury would agree and styled the case a technical transgression of the law and said that the mayor, marshal and officers simply wanted their fees in such cases instead of the money to buy bread and butter for Nelson's family. All the witnesses for the prosecution were pointed at with the exception of Frank Dickey as being employees of the city, and "of course," said Mr. Brookes, "they are interested in this plaintiff getting the fine and costs."

The arguments ended about 4:30 o'clock.

POLLY CONFESSED,

And Mrs. Pierce Relented When the Good Women Pleaded.

After Polly Hall, the 13-year-old orphan girl, was in jail a few hours yesterday on a charge of stealing a watch, four rings and three shirt studs from her guardian, Mrs. Alice Pierce, West End, some good ladies of the Women's Christian Temperance union visited city hall.

They were admitted to the jail and talked earnestly and prayed with the lone prisoner. Finally the girl could stand it no longer and confessed all. She said she was a bad girl, and had taken the jewelry and hid it in an old hollow log near the brewery. She was willing to make another trial for the better, her principal plea being that Mrs. Pierce continually scolded her. The girl was left in jail while a party went after the jewelry.

The articles were found intact and the girl was released. The good women will look after the girl, who has been taught a severe lesson.

IT WAS MYSTERIOUS.

A Lively Chase on Walnut Street Last Night.

Two men and two women drove down Walnut street in a carriage last night, and when they reached the corner of Robinson a strange thing happened. Some part of the harness became loosened, and the men jumped out. Almost instantly the horses started for the Walnut street hill, and the women also left the carriage. Then without a word of information they ran up Walnut street, and one of the men ran after them while the other looked after the team. He was not fleet enough to catch them, and they escaped. None of the crowd that gathered could explain the happening.

KILLED THE CANINE.

He Bit Michael King and Was Executed by the Police.

Michael King, a bricklayer from the West End, was working in Wucherer's addition yesterday afternoon, when he was attacked by a dog, which fastened its teeth in his leg. He shook the animal away, and it ran under a house. The police were notified, but could not get the animal. Some boys found it and later brought it to the patrol station. Last night Officer Earl fired four shots at it, and Patrolman McMillan gave it one, but the animal was unharmed until the patrolman placed his revolver at the poor thing's head and fired. That ended the dog.

LIKE AN APPLE

Was the Bump on the Head of Young Apple.

Gaines, the little son of A. B. Apple, night watchman of the Pioneer pottery, was walking in East End last night when he became involved in an altercation with the son of Jack Pollock. The father happened to be nearby and soon becoming interested, kicked Apple in the back of the head and he tumbled over. For a time the youngster was in a bad way, but his friends soon had him on the road to recovery. A big lump appeared on the boy's head, and it was thought he was seriously hurt.

FOUND THE PROOF.

Thomas Todd Has Long Been Looking For a Man.

Thomas Todd, the well known Grand Army man, has long been looking for a comrade who could furnish sufficient proof to secure him a substantial increase in pension, and at the state encampment the other day the man was found. Mr. Todd has been receiving a small sum from the government each month, but it did not amount to anything more than a consideration, and never would have done him good had the proof been lacking. Senator Quay is pushing his case.

JEALOUS OF HER JOSEPH

And a Big Row Resulted In An Alley.

EMMA BALL WAS ALSO IN IT

A Husband Came Home With Another Woman and the Wife Raised a Howl Which Could Be Heard For Squares Around—A Racy Time.

People in the vicinity of Walnut and Robinson streets were last night treated to the liveliest row ever heard in that locality.

Joseph Simpson, a warehouseman, was walking toward his home with Emma Ball, a girl who has no place in the affections of his wife. Mrs. Simpson has long been jealous of the attention Joseph lavished in other quarters, and was in the alley at the rear of Parker Anderson's hotel when the pair passed. In a minute Mrs. Simpson was upon them, and Rome began to howl and the woman to scream as she pounced upon Miss Ball with the fury of a maddened tigress. It was all over in a minute, but before the Ball girl could extricate herself from the arms of her assailant a red spot on her cheek showed the foundation for a pretty black eye. As soon as possible she left the vicinity, and hastened on her way followed by the scathing and profane language of Mrs. Simpson. Simpson aided all he could to quiet his wife, but she was determined to tell the crowd and her opponent the particulars of the case. Harvey Badgley, who is now a special officer, chanced to be present, and notified the women that a charge of disorderly conduct would be placed against their names at the mayor's office and they would be expected to appear this evening at 7 o'clock.

When the row was at its height, and it seemed that hair and blood would cover the combatants, the language was awful to hear. Choice profanity is frequently heard upon the streets, and women and children are often insulted, but it seldom happens that anyone hears the words combined in the curses and imprecations of this row.

THE HORSES WERE THIN.

And Goddard Was Made to Appear a Careless Man In Court.

The case of John S. Dixon versus John Goddard was called in the court of Squire Morley this morning, and proved a most amusing contest.

Things came Dixon's way with marvelous rapidity. Witnesses testified that Dixon's team were sleek and fat when Goddard borrowed them for $3 per week, and when they returned they were disfigured beyond recognition so to speak. Several witnesses were positive that the four corners on each animal were the most natural hat racks they had ever seen, and that the ribs were apparent through the slight covering of skin. The thinner of the two skeletons was afflicted with the thumps and the heaves and wobbled when it attempted to travel in a bee line. In fact, from the evidence it would seem that a good sized puff of atmosphere would remove the team from off the face of the earth. Willis Gaston, one of the principal witnesses for the prosecution, testified that he had repeatedly offered Dixon $125 for the horse before Goddard used it, but that he would not give him one cent for it now. In fact if he owned it he would willing pay somebody $5 to kill it. The squire will render a decision on Tuesday.

HALE AND AUGHENBAUGH

Make a Good Showing in the Pittsburg Athletic Club Races.

Hale and Aughenbaugh were at the Pittsburg Athletic club races by electric light last night, and made themselves prominent enough to let the people know they were there. Hale won a place in several races and in the final of the mile open made a stir. Trappe hugged close to Banker's trail until the stretch was reached, when Arthur was apparently doing his best. A surprise then loomed up in the shape of Hale, who by a magnificent burst of speed passed Trappe and almost beat Banker out at the tape. It was the best finish of the evening. Trappe was surprised to a standstill and sacrificed third prize, Sheck getting that place in a canter. Aughenbaugh also got several places, and showed his power to speed. Hale got a fall in one race, but was not hurt.

HEARD SOME KICKS.

The Board of Equalization are Through With Their Work.

The board of equalization, who have been meeting almost daily for about two weeks, held their final session in the mayor's office yesterday afternoon and finished their labors.

The meetings were all of a private nature so far as the press was concerned so that little is known of what was accomplished. There were several good sized kicks to listen to, however, and the board had plenty to do. The complaints so far as learned were satisfactorily settled, and the board's report will soon be made to the proper authorities in Lisbon.

CLEAR THE TRACK.

The Police Will See That Road Riders Are Not Obstructed.

At the meeting of the Ceramic City Cycling club last night Mayor Gilbert sent the information that the police would keep Sixth open for the road riders next Saturday evening. The club have rented the old Columbian club rooms, and will occupy them after June 1. The time of entries for the road race was extended until Thursday evening, when another meeting will be held. All starters are required to be present. The race will start at 4:45 and end about 6:30.

A TRIP TO EUROPE.

Miss Ida Agner, of This City, is a Happy Young Lady.

The Pittsburg Times has been printing coupons and having them taken up in order to find the most popular lady school teachers in this section, and when the count was completed Miss Ida Agner, of this city, was found to be among the winners with 31,566 to her credit. She will start with four others for a trip through Europe on the evening of July 4. Mrs. Virginia Shannon was also a candidate and received over 12,000 coupons.

RECOGNIZED.

A Splendid Position For Manager Frank Swaney.

Frank Swaney, who has long been in charge of the telephone company's business in this city and surrounding towns, has been notified of his promotion to the position of assistant chief operator in the Pittsburg office. The position is a vast improvement over the place occupied by Mr. Swaney since it places him in a position of great trust. His many friends will hear the news with gladness, for his abilities are well known.

ACCUSED HER SON.

An Exciting Incident at the Passenger Station.

A party of foreigners started for Europe on the evening train last night and when at the station surrounded by friends the son of an old woman took her pocketbook. The crowd thought a pickpocket was among them and there was excitement. The old lady added to the trouble by waving her hands. At length Officer Whan appeared and going to the car found the two in one seat, and the crowd became quiet.

FIVE YEARS OLD.

A Pleasant Entertainment by the Daughters of Liberty.

The Daughters of Liberty last night met and spent a delightful evening. Instead of a regular program they spent the evening in having a good time. A large representation of the membership was present, and they vied with each other in making the occasion successful. The organization has been in existence five years, and in all that time has had one death, that of Mrs. Welsh, a few weeks ago.

ENFORCING RULES.

Doctor Ogden Believes Laws Should Be Obeyed.

Doctor Ogden, health officer, has instituted a new order about his office because he believes that laws were made to be enforced, and not trampled upon. In the future he will issue no more burial permits to the undertakers until he has been shown a physician's certificate. That is the regulation of the board, but in the past no particular attention has been given it.

WILL START MONDAY.

Lotus Ware Potters Will Resume Work at Once.

The employees of the department in the Knowles, Taylor & Knowles plant where lotus ware is manufactured will resume work Monday.

That department has been idle since Tuesday owing to a lack of orders, but it is expected that the employees will work steadily when once started.

J. R. Johnson Filed That Promised Action.

MRS. SIMMS THE DEFENDANT

Five Thousand Dollars Asked Because He Alleges That His Family Were Styled Trash—The Petition Made Its Appearance Today.

Special to the News-Review.

Lisbon, June 22.—The petition in the suit of J. R. Johnson against Mrs. Lyndonia Simms, wife of J. H. Simms, was filed here today, and contains the same story as published early in the week. It recites that on last Monday at Spring Grove before a large crowd of people the defendant gave utterance to expressions which the plaintiff did not like styling the Johnson family "trash" and quoting Mr. Metsch as saying that he would not have allowed them to come had he known they were such. This, the plaintiff declares, is false and defamatory, and he would like to have $5,000, the amount of damages he believes he has sustained because of the utterance. The attorneys of Johnson are Travis & Hasson, of East Liverpool, and the petition was filed by them this morning.

BAGGOTT PROPERTY RECOVERED.

It Was Found in a Cigar Box by Children.

A party of children playing near the flint mill in the West End yesterday afternoon discovered a cigar box under a building and upon opening it found inside a collection of watches. The police were notified, and Chief Gill soon identified the property as the jewelry stolen from the residence of William Baggott on Second street a few weeks ago. It was all there except the money, and that had disappeared. Chief Gill turned it over to the owners last evening. There is no clew to the burglars.

MAY ASK INDEMNITY.

Mrs. Lenz May Make a Demand on the Government.

Mrs. Lenz, the mother of the dead wheelman, who has been hoping against hope that her son was alive, may ask the government to demand heavy indemnity for his life. J. J. Purinton, who has conducted the search from the start, has the matter under advisement and has not yet decided what will be done. The news which the government got the other day from Constantinople is nothing new to Mr. Purinton, who has been in direct communication with the missionaries.

SENT TO HER FRIENDS.

A Sad Case of Desertion in the East End.

Mrs. Will McClure, a well known lady of the East End, has been living in that part of the city since her husband suddenly disappeared two years ago and has never returned. She has been ill, and her many friends have taken care of her until she recovered sufficiently to undergo the fatigue of a journey to her former home at Atwater. The East End Charity club will see that the unfortunate woman is well taken care of.

The few Democrats in this city are manifesting little interest in county politics. They laugh at the two men who have set themselves up to lead the party, and appear to know the magnitude of the impending landslide.

The Cleveland World justly scores the public men who promised to attend the big banquet and failed to put in an appearance. If Mr. Elkins and Mr. Depew are listening to the seductive buzzing of the presidential bee they may awake to the knowledge of their error before this time next year.

The Leetonia Reporter should get wonders if the advance given Trenton

because the Trenton potters are here.

PROTECTION IS THE ISSUE.

The young Republicans who attended the convention in Cleveland
during the week only echoed the opinion of the masses when they declared for protection as the battle cry of the next campaign. They are not the leaders of the party, but the live young politicians who mingle with the people, and know what the people think.
They have heard protection talked from Maine to California, and have listened to the evils of Cleveland's administration from Washington to Florida. Before them day by day have been placed ocular evidences of what an at-tempt at free trade has done, and they felt themselves justified in expressing the belief that protection should be the issue in the next presidential campaign. The money question they left to some other power, since it did not materially affect their interests or the interests of the communities of which they are a part. If they have protection from the ruinous competition of the manufacturing nations beyond the Atlantic, they know the country will be in better condition to bear the silver craze at a later day.

AROYAL STONEMASON.

THE KAISER LAYS THE LAST STONE

of the Keil Canal.

THOUSANDS AT THE CEREMONIES.

The Great Waterway Christened the Kaiser Wilhelm Canal—The Emperor Then Reviewed the Parade of Warships—A Big Banquet in a Novel Structure.

MOLTENAU, June 22.—Emperor Wilhelm laid the last stone of the Baltic and North sea canal in the presence of many thousands of spectators. The weather was brilliant and the ceremony took place in the open air and not in the highhouse adjoining the sluice as at first contemplated. The scene of the ceremony was embellished by handsome designs in landscape gardening, and the highhouse standing close to the spot showed the three bronze reliefs of Emperor William I., Frederick III and William II. The highhouse and the block of masonry into which the emperor placed the finishing stone were surrounded by enormous scaffolding rising in a semi-circle and affording seats for about 15,000 people. In laying the stone the emperor said: "In memory of Emperor William the Great I christen this canal the Kaiser Wilhelm canal."

After the emperor had tapped the stone, a parchment was placed inside of it declaring in sonorous language the circumstances of the building and completion of the canal. The chancellor, Prince Hohenlohe, in full official uniform, read the document aloud before depositing it in the stone.

The guard of honor was furnished by the First Footguards and Marine Artillery, the former wearing the traditional miter headresses and red faces, uniforms ornamented with silver, worn by the Prussian guards upon state occasions. The artillery soldiers were a singularly fine body of men. The whole scene took place beneath brilliant sunshine, and with a nice breeze blowing.

As the emperor, empress and the young princes, the kings and grand dukes stood in their places on the dias, they formed an eminent picturesque group, with the background of various colors, flags, white and red plumes, glittering swords and bayonets, parti-colored flags, naval uniforms of dark blue, with gold epaulets, the whole controlled with military precision, and in the distance the many thousands of holiday attired spectators.

The actual ceremony for the great mass of on-lookers was a mystery, and outside the inner circle not one of Prince Hohenlohe's words were audible. When the set of coins was placed in the stone
the emperor, empress and other important personages, bareheaded, tapped the stone three times in accordance with German tradition, the massed bands playing different airs as the various persons touched the stone.

There was a royal salute from all the warships as the emperor gave the first tap. The whole ceremony lasted exactly half an hour. The emperor and the imperial party, as well as all the foreign officers and other persons, then returned to their respective ships amid renewed cheering.

In the meanwhile the stone was built in with bricks by the master builders of the canal, the people pressing in while the work was going on and seizing scraps of brick and mortar as souvenirs.

The review of the fleet then followed.
The imperial yacht Hohenzollern, with the imperial family, kings, grand dukes, princes and mayors of the chief cities, etc., on board, left her moorings, and at the same moment the crews of all the vessels in the harbor manned the yards or rails to their full strength, presented a grand spectacle. The Hohenzollern proceeded slowly down the line,
the emperor in admiral's uniform standing on the bridge. The crews of all the crafts in the harbor greeted his majesty with loud cheers, and the bands played a lively air. The great banquet which practically wound up the ceremonies of opening the Baltic North sea canal took place in the much discussed structure representing the old German warship Niobe. About 1,000 guests participated in the entertainment, including the diplomatic representatives of the various nations.

The table arrangements were entrusted to Borchardt of Berlin, who received $25 per plate, or about $25,000 in all, which sum includes wines, service and transportation. During the whole of the festivities the naval orchestra of the Second German division furnished the music. The French Admiral Menard sat on the emperor's right and the Russian Admiral Skrydloff sat on his left. At the conclusion of the banquet the emperor made a very conciliatory speech.

To Rescue Lieut. Feary.

NEW YORK, June 22.—A local paper
publishes a statement made by Mrs.
Josephine Feary, to the effect that the steamship Fortia will leave Brooklyn Saturday, June 23, carrying the members of the Greenland scientific expedition of 1895 to St. Johns, Newfoundland. There they will board the steam barkentine Kite, Captain Jim Bartlett, master, and will sail for Greenland about July 1.

immigration bill was also indorsed.

Accident to a U. S. Launch.

KIEL, June 22.—The boiler of one of the steam launches of the United States cruiser Columbia has exploded. The cylinder head was blown off and carried overboard with it the smokestack and other portions of the launch. Four persons were injured by the explosion and were taken to the naval hospital.

Awful Explosion of Dynamite.

KINGWOOD, W. Va., June 22.—Near

LEXINGTON, Va., June 22.—The second day's session of the seventh annual congress of the Scotch-Irish Society of America

of Washington and Lee. President Robert Bonner of New York presided. Rev. Henry

tion of Independence."

At the business session the following officers for the ensuing year were elected: President, Robert Bonner, New York; vice president general, Rev. John S. McIntosh, Philadelphia; first vice president-at-large, T. T. Wright, Nashville; second vice president-at-large, T.
H. Bryson, D. D., Huntville, Ala.;

QUACKENBUSH GAINS A POINT.

Rule Issued on Herbert to Show Cause For Non-Reinstatement.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—John N.
Quackenbush, whose name was dropped from the naval rolls, gained a point when Judge Bradley of the district supreme court issued a rule on Secretary Herbert to show cause why a permanent writ of mandamus should not be granted to compel him to restore Mr.
Quackenbush to the navy with the rank of commander.

Commander Quackenbush was sentenced by courtmartial to dismissal from the navy, but President Grant commuted the sentence to suspension for six years. Through a clerical error, when W. S. Schley was promoted to the rank of commander, his commission read vice Quackenbush, dismissed. It was held, however, that notwithstanding this clerical error Quackenbush was still in the navy, and he was so recognized until 1883, when Secretary Chandler ordered his name stricken from the naval rolls.

Lynched by Blacks and Whites.

PORT GIBSON, Miss., June 22.—James Sanders, colored, has been hung about 12 miles from here by an infuriated mob of both whites and blacks. He was caught by his son in a compromising position with his own daughter.
The son reported the case to Sanders' wife, who was the stepmother of the girl, whereupon a row occurred, in which the wife of Sanders was killed, either by himself or his daughter with whom he had been guilty of incest.

Trouble With the Indians.

BRIDGEPORT, O. T., June 22.—Trouble at Arapahoe, arising out of the shooting of an Indian—Red Lodge—by Deputy Sheriff Burch, is intense. Red Lodge is still alive, but cannot live. The Indians are making threats of vengeance, to be carried out when he dies.
If the whites can identify Red Lodge
as the man who assaulted Mrs. Hayes, they will hang him.

gomery has sailed from Colon for Greytown. She will remain there awaiting the return to the east coast of the Nicaragua canal commission which is far in the interior inspecting the line of the

DUN'S TRADE REVIEW.

Business Increasing So Fast: It
Threatens Trouble.

ENCOURAGING CROP NEWS.

The Confident Replenishing of Stocks For Two Years Depleted Also Aids the Situation
—Rapid Purchase of Iron and Steel Increasing Prices—Business Failures.

NEW YORK, June 22.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade, issued today, says: From all parts of the United States the best advices obtainable tell of a rising tide of trade and industry which threatens here and there to mount too far and too fast. The volume of all business is by no means equal to that of 1892 as yet, though in some important branches larger than in that or any other year. Two influences of tremendous power contribute to the rise, encouraging crop news and the confident replenishing of stocks which have been for two years depleted to the utmost.

Reports from spring wheat states and from the Pacific coast are so cheering, that although the loss of winter wheat was large, those whose estimates have been most accurate in recent years now vary in predictions from 430,000,000 to 470,000,000 bushels. Atlantic exports for three weeks, flour included, have been only 3,758,718 bushels, against 5,906,232 last year, indicating an urgent demand at current prices. There has been a fall of 6 cents in wheat with heavier sales than for three weeks past.

The rush for supplies in iron and steel resembles a "bear panic" in the stock market. Because prices are mounting everybody hurries to buy, so that they mount higher. Bessemer iron has reached $12.65 at Pittsburgh, the Bar association has advanced common to $1.15, the Wire Nail association put their price to $1.50 per keg, the steel nail makers have raised the price to $2.45, eastern and southern furnaces have both raised prices again 50 cents per ton and structural beams are $1.35 and angles $1.25.

It is undeniable that works in operation are crowded with orders, and others who have been idle for years are preparing to resume. At the same time the most potent cause of the upward start in prices, the general belief that a combination of coke producers would raise the price to $1.50 after July 1 is apparently removed by war among the producers and a fall to $1.25 in contracts for the last half of 1895.

A Minnesota Girl Who Has Made Her Mark in the Theatrical World.

Nellette Reed is a young actress who is coming to the front in the theatrical world with rapid strides. She is the daughter of Colonel John Reed, a well known citizen of Minneapolis. When but a child the future actress gave evidence of the possession of extraordinary histrionic ability, but it was not until she was budding into womanhood that she was allowed to follow her natural bent.

Miss Reed has been singularly fortunate since she adopted the stage as her life work, inasmuch as she has escaped most of the drudgery of small parts. She has played many important roles, and her work stamps her as being a player of more than ordinary promise. At present Miss Reed is the leading lady of the summer stock company at the Academy of Music, Quebec. Among the parts assigned to her there are Esther Eccles, Gervaise in Zola's "L'Assommoir," and Georgiana in Pine ro's "Dandy Dick." She has a new play, entitled "Mme. Defarge," adapted from Charles Dickens' "A Tale of Two Cities," which she will produce next season. If it should prove successful, it is not improbable that she may tour the country in it.

Among the flattering engagements which Miss Reed has accepted is one at Bar Harbor, Me., where during the month of August she will appear in two elaborate open air performances of "As You Like It" and "A Midsummer Night's Dream," playing the parts respectively of Rosalind and Helena.

Miss Reed has excellent stage presence and a musical voice. Her diction is singularly accurate and her reading very careful. Her face is strong and intellectual, and as she is a hard, conscientious student the future should contain many histrionic triumphs for her.

The Chicago road race ended in such a tangle that the great Decoration day event will probably be discontinued hereafter.

CHICAGO, June 22.—After being in session ten days the twenty-third annual convention of the supreme lodge of the A. O. U. W. has come to a close. It will meet again the third Tuesday in June of next year at Buffalo.

SILVER MEN ELATED.

Expected an Anti-Silver Resolution Adopted at Cleveland.

THE GOLD MEN DISSATISFIED.

They Were Compelled to Compromise on the Patton Resolution—An Attempt to Divert Attention to Tariff—Dowling Is Elected Secretary—McKinley's Reception

CLEVELAND, June 22.—The eighth national convention of Republican clubs has closed. All week there were apprehensions of an embarrassing fight on the silver question, but nothing was disposed of in all the proceedings so quickly or so quietly as that matter. The committee on resolutions had settled this matter, as stated in these dispatches yesterday, by deciding to report that the league had no constitutional right to adopt resolutions, and its report to that effect was approved. Constitutional limitations are sometimes in the way, but in this case the constitution was considered convenient by both factions.

The gold standard men were not satisfied, but they could not see any way to do anything better than to adopt the Patton substitute as given in these dispatches yesterday. The silver men are elated. They say if free silver was not adopted, nothing else was adopted, and that it indicates that the Republicans concede they cannot get along without the western states. Although it could not have been done without a fight on the floor of the convention, the western delegates expected to have an anti-silver resolution adopted over their protests. They claim to have received more advantage than ever expected at a national convention.

It is well known that telegrams were received here from presidential aspirants and leading Republicans, in all parts of the country, suggesting that any action on silver would be dangerous, and these advices no doubt did much toward having the hot poker dropped and Patton's substitute adopted. The local papers tried to interview delegates on the report of the committee on resolutions. The free silver men all expressed satisfaction and the anti-silver men as a rule would not express any opinion. Senator Thurston of Nebraska, a leader against free silver, said: "The report was entirely consistent with the league organization, but I should have preferred a disclaimer of any authority or purpose to make a platform or commit the party, followed by such resolutions as would express the views of these assembled delegates on political issues. I am in favor of improving the financial plank of the last Republican platform."

While most of the delegates were steaming over the lake there was a joint meeting of the officers of the state leagues with the committee on league work and the executive committee. Judge John L. Webster, the Nebraska vice president, presided in the absence of General McAlpin and the states were called for reports. Mr. Churchill of Colorado said the convention had not the courage to express any opinion on anything and it would be difficult to outline plans for organization.

Mr. Green, president of the New York league, said the convention had resolved itself into a nonentity. He insisted on the meeting hearing Prof. George Gunton of New York, who had been invited here to address the organizers and officers on plans and principles.

In this meeting, as in the convention, Pennsylvania opposed New York, although it was known that General McAlpin wanted Dowling made secretary, and New York cast her solid vote of 186 for Dowling. Yet Pennsylvania voted solidly for Byrnes of Colorado when the tide was tending strongly toward Dowling. Nevertheless, Dowling was elected.

The effort to divert attention from silver to the tariff as the issue continued to the end. The speeches in the convention, as well as at the banquet and elsewhere, were all in that line. When the "Tippencanoe" and other local clubs last night went to the depot to meet Governor McKinley, the Iowa band of the Allison men headed the procession. There was every possible effort to make the week of silver agitation end in a big boom for the tariff as the issue of the Republicans.

On Governor McKinley's arrival, he was driven directly to the Hollenden, the headquarters of the National Republican League, where he held a reception. Many of the delegates of the convention called upon him and the convention lasted fully an hour. An effort was made to induce him to speak, but he was tired after his long journey and declined. Later he was driven to the residence of Hon. M. A. Hanna, whose guest he will be while in Cleveland.

A Panic at a Fire.

CINCINNATI, June 22.—A panic among the 300 women and girls employed in the cotton mills of Henry Pearce's Sons and the Russell & Morgan printing works, on Eggleston avenue, was caused by a fire which broke out in the two-story dyehouse situated between these two large factories. The sounding of a second and third alarm only increased the panic, and the police had to carry out a number of fainting girls, who were in no way endangered by the fire. Luckily none were seriously injured, though several tried to jump from windows. The fire was extinguished, with a loss of $5,000.

Elliott's Lawyers to Sue.

COLUMBUS, June 22.—Hon. George L. Converse and Thomas E. Steele, who were appointed by the court to defend Patrick J. Elliott, were allowed $500 each by the presiding judge. The county commissioners refused to pay this and offered $900. The attorneys refused this and will sue the county for the full amount.

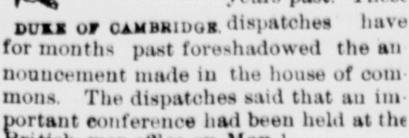

A Pittsburg Couple Injured.

TORONTO, June 22.—Mr. and Mrs. James Schofield of Pittsburg, Pa., here on their wedding trip, have been thrown from a carriage. The lady had her collar bone broken and otherwise was severely injured. Doctors have strong hopes for her recovery.

BRITONS ARE PLEASED.

Many Have Wanted the Duke of Cambridge to Retire.

LONDON, June 22.—The announcement that the Duke of Cambridge has finally decided to retire from the post of commander-in-chief of the British army will be welcome news to very many Britons. Certain English newspapers and some sections of the political parties of Great Britain have been strongly urging his retirement for years past. These

DUKE OF CAMBRIDGE dispatches have for months past foreshadowed the announcement made in the house of commons. The dispatches said that an important conference had been held at the British war office on May 1. It was then stated that Lord Roberts of Kandahar would succeed Lord Wolseley at Dublin as commander of the forces in Ireland. Lord Wolseley would take the newly created post of chief of the staff at headquarters in the event of the retirement of the Duke of Cambridge. A few days following Dr. Tanner, a Parliament member, caused a commotion in the house of commons by asking if the report was true that the Duke of Cambridge was retiring in order to make way for a better man. This caused loud cries of "order," but Dr. Tanner continued, saying: "Has the time at last come when a member of the royal family who has been drawing the people's money too long is going to retire?"

A considerable uproar followed.

ROSEBURY IN A TIGHT PLACE.

His Government Defeated in the Commons A Minister Thought to Have Retired.

LONDON, June 22.—The government has been defeated on the motion of the Hon. William St. John F. Brodrick, conservative member for the Guilford division of Surrey, to reduce the salary of the secretary of war by £100 on account of an alleged deficiency in the army stores and munitions of war, chiefly cordite. The motion was adopted by a vote of 132 to 125. Progress was immediately reported.

Mr. Campbell-Bannerman, secretary of war, is believed to have resigned on account of the impending crisis.

Davis Held on New Charges.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—In the police court J. C. Davis, the Rochester, N. Y., man who was arrested for obtaining money from local merchants under false pretenses, was held to answer in the superior court on two additional charges. Bail was set at $1,000 in each case. The charge against Mrs. Davis was dismissed, as it was shown she had not participated in his offense.

Howgate Found Guilty.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—The Howgate jury has brought in a verdict of guilty on each indictment, one indictment being for forgery and one for falsification of accounts. The jury added a recommendation to mercy. An appeal on a bill of exceptions has been taken to the district court of appeals and probably will come up in September.

The Boat Race Postponed.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 22.—The wash of a passing tug smashed the shell of Pennsylvania's crew against their boathouse flat, as the men were getting away for the start of their four-mile race with the eights of Cornell and Columbia. The contest was deferred until next Monday evening.

Arkansas Negro Legally Hanged.

DUMAS, Ark., June 22.—Anthony Johnson, colored, has been hanged here. He confessed his crime and asked his hearers to be warned by his sad ending. Johnson shot and killed Howard, another negro, whom he claimed had been criminally intimate with his wife.

The Lick Trust Ended.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—The famous Lick trust, organized in 1875, has come to an end. With the payment of $181,000 by the Fair estate to the trustees, the last act of the judiciary agents of James Lick was accomplished.

Awarded One Dollar.

TUSCON, Ariz., June 22.—The jury in the case of United States Marshal Meade, suing the Arizona Star, Governor Hughes' paper, for $25,000 for libel, awarded Meade $1 damages.

Killed by Falling Walls.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—The walls of the old City hall have caved in. One man was killed and three were wounded.

The Weather.

W. H. Prier is able to be about again after being laid up a week with injuries to his leg, caused by the seat turning on his bicycle.

Captain J. T. Galley, one of the best known Salvation Army officers ever located in this city, is now stationed at Columbus. For 14 years he has been an active and energetic worker in the army.

A luckless dog of no particular breed sat on the street car track on Franklin street this morning, and disputed the right of way with a car so long that it was run down and lost one of its front feet.

A vigorous kick, dressed in all the indignation of a long standing grievance, comes from people on Sixth street where the perfume arising from a dead cat has for several days been filling the air.

"I see by the morning papers that an old city hall collapsed in California yesterday and killed a man," said a city official today. "That's what will be happening in East Liverpool some of these days," he added, shaking his head.

A bicycle accident near Riverview cemetery last evening caused a well known wheelman to see stars of a dozen different colors. He indignantly denied that he still failed to look upon himself as the best rider in town.

Steubenville objects because of great disorder at the high school commencement. They should send a delegation to a similar performance in East Liverpool, and learn by observation how to act on such occasions.

A large fire plug containing threads for the use of three lines of hose at one time has been delivered in the West End, and Councilman Peake will now have that protection of which he talked so much at the last meeting of council.

J. M. Moore, formerly bookkeeper at the Ohio Valley Clay works, Toronto, died Tuesday at a Chicago hospital as the result of a surgical operation. He had been lately a resident of Eldora, Iowa, but was at one time well known in this city.

When the painters were at work on the school house tower the other day an excellent photograph was secured. It shows Joe McDonald on the top of the tower, Emmett Crites on the first capping and T. O. Timmons in a scaffold at one of the dial holes.

The base ball boys of Company E played ball with the East End Juniors yesterday afternoon, and if they could not protect the state better than they protected their reputation as players they are poor soldiers, for the score was 35-6 in favor of the Juniors. It is said that only two militiamen acknowledged to being in the game.

A local street car man was in Wheeling yesterday and in consequence was indignant at the wicked people of that town. A prisoner only released yesterday from the Moundsville penitentiary walked to Wheeling, and being hungry and tired stole a pie from a bakery. He was seen and a crowd of 300 people rushed in wild pursuit. The poor fellow was caught, and although half a dozen people offered to pay for the pie, the baker insisted on sending him to jail.

Those who wish to know something of all sides of life should sit on the wharf boat any of these pleasant evenings when young people in all classes and conditions of existence enjoy boating. Rich and poor, high and low are there, and mid the songs which stir the soul with melody or jar a man from foundation to garret, as the case may be, come snatches of intelligent conversation or two often oaths of the vilest variety. It is worth an hour of anybody's time.

The Junior Endeavorers of the Second United Presbyterian church entertained the congregation and Reverend Green last evening in one of the most complete entertainments ever seen in the East End. The program was highly entertaining and the little performers did well. At the close of the meeting each person present was given a piece of pie, and a lot of small boys who had drifted into the church when they heard that pastry was to be passed around were served first. Their astonishment and delight were boundless.

When you look at a stock of goods you can judge in a few minutes whether it is the desire of the buyer to buy goods to make big money on them, or to buy the very latest things even if the margin is smaller.

We mention this fact because when you look at our stock of wash goods and compare it with goods usually shown for "the latest things out" you will notice this difference. We are displaying the new shades in Dimities, Organdies, French Lawns, Jaconettes, Dotted Swisses and French Muslins.

Black Dress Goods.

This week we have the greatest layout in Black Goods and the prices quoted will make them rapid sellers. Think of buying a 45-inch all wool Serge at 40c per yard; a 50-inch Serge at 50c. These are two numbers that we guarantee you a saving of at least 20c on the yard. Then our 69c, our 75c and $1.00 serge will stand up against goods that have been priced to you at 15c to 25c a yard more money.

Wrappers.

They came in yesterday. All sizes, from 32s to 34s, bust measure; the same make of goods you have been buying of us. Black and white Simpsons, Morning Prints, with neat shoulder ruffle, good wide skirt, neatly made, at $1.00 each. The calico would cost you almost that much. Then we have the silver gray and wine and whites. Some special good things at the same prices. Our French Lawn Wrappers, trimmed with Valenciennes lace, makes a nice afternoon dress, and you will be surprised at the small amount it costs you.

Shirt Waists.

New ones this week. No elaborate prices; 75c and $1.00 is what they will cost you, but they are stunners for the money. You will admit it when you see them.

HICKEY BOUND TO COURT.

Mayor Sinclair Thought the Testimony Was Enough to Hold Him.

J. E. Hickey, charged by Elwood Bunting with taking a pocketbook containing $400, was given a hearing this morning in the court of Mayor Sinclair, and during the hottest part of the day sat quietly in his chair and listened to the testimony against him. The prosecution was conducted by Attorney Wells and the defense by J. H. Brookes. A large crowd heard the testimony which was not concluded until this afternoon. After all had been summed up Mayor Sinclair bound him to court, and he gave bail to the amount of $800.

PULLED THE WRONG ROPE.

Then He Got Mad and Tumbled Off the Car.

A stranger was on a car going down Main street yesterday evening, and evidently did not know much about the magnificent palace car in which he rode. He wanted to get off, but caught hold of the wrong strap, and pulled vigorously. As the motorman was looking on the track, and could not see behind him, the passenger continued to pull, and the car did not stop. At length he grew weary and jumped off, only to turn a few somersaults, and think a lot of wicked things about the motorman.

All Are Recovering.

Advices from Pittsburg tell that Jack Everson is improving, a marked change having been noticed in the last few days.

Doctor Smith is home from the hospital, and carries his arm with a dignity all his own. He is improving every day.

S. P. Berry, the West End resident who was taken to Cleveland by Doctor Holland, stood the operation very well, and is now getting better.

Fetterman Was in Jail.

Louis Fetterman, the old soldier who sees but little and makes a living by grinding an organ, was talking and swearing loudly on the street last night when he was ordered to move on. He failed to respond, and was locked up. After keeping him there during the night Mayor Sinclair let him go this morning after a severe lecture.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Doctor and Mrs. Charles Birkett have returned from a pleasant visit in Detroit.

Mrs. W. T. Pilgrim left today for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Al Fowler, to Hancock county.

Mrs. William Baggott, Second street, went to Akron this morning with the potters mentioned in yesterday's issue of the NEWS REVIEW.

Dr. J. W. Sloan returned this morning from Wellsburg where he has been taking care of the patients of Dr. G. H. Smith while the latter was in the hospital. His stay has been one of five or six weeks.

Sam Larkins, George Morton and John Morton of this city spent yesterday in hunting near Alum Cliff place. They were guests of J. R. Warner and the way fowls and wild beasts of the forest disappeared under the unerring aim was a caution.

The Girls Were Excited.

If there is anybody who enjoys a joke it is Patrolman McMillan, and his assistant is in his element in that line, too. The latter saw a chance for fun Thursday evening and took advantage of it. As two young ladies passed by the patrol station he came up the street staggering as if he were drunk. The patrolman grabbed him, and there was an argument. The girls turned as if to go back and assist the handsome officer, who is a lady's man through and through, but just then the supposed drunk dealt him a blow and a scuffle followed. This frightened the girls and they ran. Then the pair saw their chance and laughed loud and long. To say the girls were angry would be putting it mildly. They stopped and as the assistant shouted, "It's all right. I settled it and paid my fine," the answer came back, "You big, black, nigger fool." Then a soldier boy came down from the armory and took her home.

Opened the Bids.

At a meeting of the street committee held in Burford's pottery yesterday afternoon the bids for the new culvert in the East End were opened, and the contract awarded to Kerr & Martin for $5.50 a perch. There were nine bids, and all bidders were close to the lucky men except one, who offered to do the work for $8.25 per perch.

No Fraud, No Humbug.

But an elegant picture of yourself 20x24. How? By buying $10 worth of goods at our store. See sample of picture at our place.

SLEEPY, DULL,

languid and morose, is the way you feel when your liver fails to do its work properly. In consequence you suffer from indigestion, biliousness, and dyspepsia. You have a "don't care" spirit and a "played out" feeling, and everything tires you.

To set the liver in action, purify and enrich the blood, and to strengthen and vitalize the whole system, take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Having a peculiar tonic effect upon the lining membrane of the stomach and bowels, it makes a lasting cure of all stomach, liver and bowel disorders. By increasing the blood supply, as well as enriching it, all the organs of the body are strengthened, and the nerves are fed on pure, rich blood.

Neuralgia is the "cry of the starved nerves for food"; nervous debility and exhaustion, sleeplessness and nervous prostration are in most instances the direct result of a starved condition of the blood. The true way to cure these ailments permanently is to take the "Golden Medical Discovery," which was discovered and prescribed by an eminent physician, Dr. R. V. Pierce, at present chief consulting physician and specialist at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y. If you want a medical opinion on your case, write him. It will cost you nothing.

A Book of 136 pages on "Diseases of the Digestive Organs," will be mailed to any address on receipt of postage, six cents. It contains names, addresses and reproduces photographs of a vast number of people who have been cured of dyspepsia, "liver complaint," chronic diarrhea, and kindred ailments by the use of "Golden Medical Discovery."

"LIVER COMPLAINT."

Climax, Kalamazoo Co., Mich. Dr. R. V. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.: Dear Sir—A few of my symptoms were heartburn and fullness after eating, sometimes pain in my bowels and bad taste in my mouth; sometimes I was feverish, with hot flushes over skin. After taking your Golden Medical Discovery, I was relieved of all these symptoms and I feel perfectly well. Yours truly,

Charles Book

Resolutions of Respect.

At a regular meeting of Lucy Webb Hayes council No. 5, Daughters of Liberty, of East Liverpool, Ohio, June 21, 1895, the following resolutions were adopted:

WHEREAS, God, the Supreme Head of the universe, bade the angel of death to visit the portals of our council and caused us to stop and reflect upon the sad scenes, our worthy sister, Ida Welch, once in health and vigor, removed into a higher council. Therefore, be it

Resolved, That we tender our heartfelt sympathy to the husband, little one, mother and friends in this, their hour of bereavement, and may our Heavenly Father bind their lacerated hearts so recently wounded by the angel of death.

Resolved, That we commend them to the love of Him who hath said: "I will wipe away all tears from their eyes."

Resolved, That our charter be draped in mourning for a period of 30 days; that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the bereaved family, and be spread upon the minutes of the council and published in the daily papers.

T. V. Milligan has moved with his family to Spring Grove, and N. G. Macrum and family are other late additions.

The cottages have not yet been filled, but all are taken, and will be occupied long before the season is over. Well informed people say there is not a house in the grove for rent.

The base ball enthusiasts have raised $4 to be used in purchasing balls and bats, and expect a game with a picked nine from the city next week. The contest last night showed 27 for the row and five for the circle, and the row is happy.

A Household Treasure.

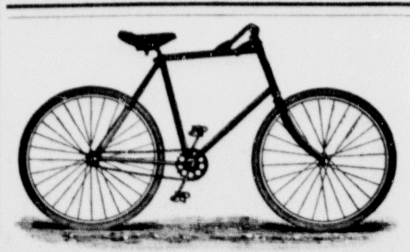

D. W. Fuller, of Canajoharie, N. Y., says that he always keeps Dr. King's New Discovery in the house and his family has always found the very best results follow its use; that he would not be without it, if procurable. G. A. Dykeman, druggist, Catskill, N. Y., says that Dr. King's New Discovery is undoubtedly the best cough remedy; that he has used it in his family for eight years, and it has never failed to do all that is claimed for it. Why not try a remedy so long tried and tested. Trial bottles free at Potts drug store. Regular size 50 cents and $1.

A HOT TEMPERANCE FIGHT.

A Liquor Joint Raided—Warrants Issued For the Holders.

TIFFIN, O., June 22.—The village of Bascom, in Hopewell township, recently went "dry" by a large majority. In the face of that fact, S. J. Patterson of this city opened up a refreshment stand to sell soft drinks. The people suspected that something stronger was on draught, and a citizens' committee of nine was appointed to investigate.

The committee and about 50 others, headed by Rev. W. R. Arnold, marched to the saloon and found intoxicating drinks in abundance. They loaded the entire stock and fixtures on wagons, hauled them to the depot, and shipped them to Tiffin.

Patterson has sworn out warrants against all the parties implicated, charging them with robbery and destruction of property.

Old River Bed Uncovered.

PORTSMOUTH, O., June 22.—Workmen in the clay banks of the Portsmouth red-brick works, east of the city, have unearthed, at the depth of 30 feet, what evidently was the bed of a river or lake, or the original bed of the Ohio. Firmly imbedded in the ground are huge sycamore logs and tons of leaves, the latter retaining their shape, although buried for centuries. It is two miles from the Ohio and five from the Scioto, on what is known by the geologists as the second bench above the level of the Ohio.

Sued For Divorce.

COLUMBUS, June 22.—A sensational divorce suit has been filed here. The parties are somewhat prominent in business and social circles. Mrs. J. J. Snider sues for divorce, alimony and the custody of her three minor children. The husband is president of the J. J. Snider Lumber company. She charges extreme cruelty, specifying occasions when she was assaulted and her life threatened, failure to provide and infidelity with a woman named Minnie Crawford in Cincinnati.

A Banquet to Judge Harmon.

CINCINNATI, June 22.—One hundred and twenty-six guests partook of the dinner given by the Cincinnati Bar association to Hon. Judson Harmon, attorney general of the United States. Judge W. H. Taft of the United States court of appeals was toastmaster. Hon. Judson Harmon sat at the head of the table, with ex-Governor Foraker on his right and Judge Taft on his left. At this table were seated the judges and ex-judges of the superior and common pleas courts.

Climax in the Strike Expected.

DAYTON, O., June 22.—There is a prevailing sentiment that a climax is being reached in the Malleable iron-works strike, and some fear is expressed lest the peaceable manner in which the strike has thus far been conducted may be soon followed by less orderly scenes. The strikers have been holding secret meetings, but little direct information as to their intention can be secured. The officials of the company are also reticent.

Mill Burned Near Toledo.

TOLEDO, June 22.—The mill of the Toledo Cotton Mill company, located at Maumee, ten miles east of here, has been totally destroyed by fire, together with the residence of the superintendent. The fire was caused by spontaneous combustion among the waste. Loss, $60,000; insured for $47,000. The mill manufactured cotton warp, wrapping twine, etc.

Standard Advances Oil Prices.

TOLEDO, O., June 22.—The Standard has advanced the price of crude oil 2 cents—to 77 cents for south of Lima and 79 for north of Lima. The numerous dry holes drilled for the past month is the cause of the advance, the Standard wishing to stimulate production.
